

MILLER

all-terrain

supporting acquisition individuals worldwide

www.millertripods.com

Great Scott

SCOTT NEEDHAM leads a diverse career and uses various equipment depending on what the client needs. From Super 16 to MiniDV and exceptional stills photography in between, this adventurer has travelled the globe shooting the ASP pro tour, worked for Billabong, Quiksilver and other major brands globally.

His recent trip saw him trot around the globe from France, London, Singapore and Indonesia working for four different clients on the one trip. The schedule is busy and Scott has to travel with a diverse kit of gear and as little as possible as they encounter all sorts of terrains along the way.

Name: Scott Needham

Age: 39

Current Job: Photographer/Backyard IT

First Job: Dishpig in a Mexican restaurant ... roach central.

Hairiest Job: Anytime someone is attempting something big ... like jumping a highway on skis or motocross bike. Anytime Tahiti has a swell and jet-skis are involved.

Favourite Equipment and Why: Miller SOLO DV. I use it for cine and stills just by swapping the heads. The fact that it's made in Oz makes it more kangaroo than Qantas will ever be. Lighter too ...

Gear on my Shopping List: Red HD Cam, organic foods, eizo LCD monitor.

I Wish Someone Would Invent a ...: Handsfree portable helicopter with gyro and cappuccino machine and laser beam for parking police.

Where My Talents Lie and Why: Undiscovered as yet. I think about too many things and end up spreading myself thin. I'd say time management given I don't have a watch ...

Favourite Production: Blues Brothers, Blade Runner.

Plusses of the Job: Different places, different people.

Minuses of the Job: Airport security, DVT, and Americans everywhere.

Future Ambitions: Learn more sustainable approach to living, build a house that reflects this, tend my own garden, and surf uncrowded offshore waves in clear water.