Rome Where You Want To ...

Name: Giovanni Albanese

Age: 33

Current Job:

Post production at Foxel and Company director of Alba Productions which is responsible for "The Italian Guide" half-hour television programme exploring Italian lifestyle around the world, which airs on TVS in Sydney on Monday nights at 7.30pm and also airs on 31 Your Local TV in Brisbane on Wednesday nights at 5:30pm and C31 Adelaide as well

First Job:

As a Channel Ten cameraman in Far North Queensland, working on local programmes such as Radiant Living, Australia's longest running TV show to date and national programmes such as the Investigators.

Hairiest Job:

Being behind a live broadcast camera at international events, there is no room for error!

Favourite Equipment and why:

My Miller Solo tripod for its versatility and adaptability.

Gear on your shopping list:

A brand new Sony High Definition Camera

I wish someone would invent....:

More hours in the days

Where my talents lie and why:

In producing programmers because of my experience behind the camera and in an edit suite.

Favourite Production:

Working at SAS Channel 7 Adelaide, working on Wheel of Fortune and The Book Place, it was a great crew and an awesome studio with great history producing Australian TV and to be a part of that was inspiring.

Pluses of the Job:

Meeting The Italian Guide viewers at events and festivals and getting their feedback on the show.

Minuses of the Job:

Endless hours in the edit suite to put The Italian Guide to air

Future Ambitions:

To have a successful production company providing well made and popular 100 percent Australian owned productions
